BIOGRAPHY

Drummond Lambert is a Vancouver-based civil litigator. He has a broad practice that includes construction litigation, Indigenous law, commercial litigation, insurance defence, and judicial review. He strives to provide strategic and practical advice to clients facing complex disputes.

Drummond has assisted clients with matters before all levels of court in British Columbia and with alternative dispute resolution processes, such as mediation and arbitration. In his construction practice, Drummond has represented warranty providers, consultants, contractors, and homeowners in a wide range of matters, such as multi-party construction defect disputes, delay claims, and surety matters. His commercial litigation experience includes debt enforcement, shareholder disputes, and class actions.

Drummond obtained his Juris Doctor from the University of British Columbia in 2017. Before joining Eyford Partners LLP, he articulated and then practiced law for three years as an associate at a large regional firm.
